Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 08 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely fine tonight. Mainly dry and warm Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Most areas staying dry overnight with long clear periods. The Pennines, especially western parts may remain on the cloudier side, perhaps with the odd spot of drizzle at times. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Wednesday:
Probably a warmer but rather cloudy day on the whole. Most areas should stay dry throughout, although there is a small chance of isolated showers developing later. Becoming breezier. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Periodically on the cloudy side, and some showers possible on Thursday afternoon. Otherwise mainly fine with sunny spells through this period. Temperatures may rise a little further as winds ease.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.